10:00:00		OPENING CREDITS
10:00:06	ANNOUNCER	Welcome to the home of U.S. football! A significant day for our game. Many years in the making.
10:00:18	DONNIE DAVIS	These two teams have traveled a long way to get here, and these boys will bring their own unique style to the game.
10:00:26	ANNOUNCER	That's right, Donnie. Many people did not believe the game could change so much.
10:00:31	DONNIE DAVIS VO	It's amazing to think of where we've come from when we started to now. Unbelievable!
10:00:37		[CHEERS]
10:00:46	NARRATOR	For years, football was only played in America.
10:00:50	TEAM PLAYERS	[SIMULTANEOUSLY SPEAKING FRENCH]
10:00:59	NARRATOR	Now people all over the world have a taste for this game. But how far will it travel? Does football have what it takes to become a world sport?
10:01:00		BREAK
10:01:31	JOHN JOHNSON	I travel a lot around the world, and everyone always seems to ask me, hey, what's your favorite sport? And I say, American football. And they say, what? Soccer? [CHEERS] I say no, no, it's not soccer. What is it? It's actually very, very difficult to describe because it's not like any other game in the world.
10:01:57	ANNOUNCER	Now four, three - -. Look! Look! G-- go! Yes! There's a flag on the play.
10:02:09	TIMOTHY THOMAS	It is quintessentially the original American game.
10:02:11	ANNOUNCER	Hughes goes wide -- [OVERLAP]
10:02:12	MATT MATTHEWS VO	Probably the example that exhilarates me is the sight of Kevin Kane catching the missed Texas field goal and running over 80 yards for the touchdown that gave Louisiana the win. You can expect to see him in the Super Bowl.
10:02:20	ANNOUNCER	It's the main event in any stadium in the country.
10:02:24	MATT MATTHEWS VO	Two players against each other. Kane is running it, and he's unstoppable! And I reckon thousands of people watching held their breath. That was just a magic moment.

10:02:32	JAROD JENKINS	It's like ballet, but in ballet you can't tackle the male lead. You can't bring him down.
10:02:41	JAROD JENKINS VO	It requires someone quite daring. It requires great skill. And it has moments of reckless [CHEERS] athleticism when the young men try and leap and touch the sun.
10:02:46	ADAM ABRAMS	My belief is that it came from a game that my people used to play. Kickball!
10:03:09	NEWS ANCHOR VO	Football and the NFL has embarked on another international home and away match next season. It's going to be in Africa, and it's to be staged on their national holiday. This brings you back to the same question. Are you a believer in taking it off shore, or does the game belong at home?
10:03:32		[CHEERS]
10:03:49	ANNOUNCER	We're excited for a new venture for our great game, and we are away on international soil!
10:03:58		CLOSING CREDITS
